

JORDAN COYNER

Father's Day remains somber without you here! It remains challenging to not hear your voice or your laugh that always filled our hearts with joy while your absence continues to be felt even more with every passing day. We miss everything about you as a gaping hole in our hearts remains knowing you were taken far too soon and that void of you not being with us on all occasions carries on. Everyday remains a struggle without you and we cling to the comfort in our memories until we are together again. We feel you watching over us - you are our eternal angel.

We appreciate all the "23's" that come our way.
Hope you have reconnected with Pappy and that you are sharing your time at Peace

We Love you endlessly and miss you even more,
Mom, Dad, Shane, Kali, Grandma, Aunt Lora & Uncle Char
