

The Truth Shall Set You Free

No matter how bad
No matter how hard
Just tell the truth
And lay out your card

And put it on the table
And free up your mind
And although it may sting
You are going to find

That peace is within you
Like a breath of fresh air
Though you may have done wrong
You confessed to it square

Rachel Ann Bovier