

ADRIANN "BIG A" BOCSKAY WEHR

April 14, 1927 - September 15, 2023

Her final breath a quiet, graceful, sweet whisper of a closing note of a song. Now, deep heartache and heart relief riding side by side. A profound sense of peace, calm and gentle wonder here, yet a certain empty as well. Team Big A shines on as amazing, present and loving...a family born of caring for Big these many years. And the home hospice workers all shone as a rare breed of human. These riches along with on-flowing love and support from family, friends, neighbors...blessings beyond words.

And while our prayers for her release, if so destined, came to be, we still long for more time. Her decline was rapid fire. Stunning in its speed. The fastest thing Big, who always implored her only child—Adrienne Janene Wehr ("Little A")—to "slow down", has ever done.

Yet it came after a journey upon a long slow road that took its time. Nearly 17 years since her husband, William A. Wehr, Jr. passed suddenly, and she and Little A began this new duet. So perhaps that long, slow road was the extra time we long for now...the gift that was already given.

Born in Gary, IN to first generation parents Stephen and Anna Bocskay. Graduate of Emerson High School, Indiana University and University of Pittsburgh. Professional educator in Colorado, Newfoundland and Pittsburgh, PA. Longtime resident of Pittsburgh, PA and Pompano Beach, FL. Lifelong songbird, musician, artist, style maven, student of life, and forever teacher for us all, especially the youth. Oh, how she loved children! Survived by Little A and Jessika Janene, and myriad beloved ones.

No public funeral, though donations can be made to Alzheimer's Association in her name.

Blessed Be Big A. Keep singing your song to us of "How to Be" from the place you dwell now. We love you. Thank you for gracing our lives.
