In 1968, he was drafted into the U.S. Army and served in Okinawa for two years. Doug and Linda Foxx were married on February 1, 1969, and served together as choir director and organist for the Anglican Church of Okinawa. Doug received a master's degree in vocal performance from The Eastman School of Music and upon graduation debuted with the San Francisco Opera in 1972.

In 1973, he won the Metropolitan Opera Auditions and began a three-year contract at the Met, singing over 60 different roles. While at CMU, Doug created the Steelers Opera Chorus to cheer on the Black and Gold to 2006 and 2009 Super Bowl wins.

Doug spoke fluent German, French and Italian, which came in handy with travels all over the globe. Of all the many trips Doug and Linda took, the highlight was always the annual family ski trip.

Doug loved his family and his Lord dearly. Every song he sang was to the glory of God. His children and grandchildren were the light of his life. He touched the lives of so many students of all ages, many of whom sing professionally today. He will always be remembered for his sweet, loving and gentle spirit.

Doug was preceded in death by his parents.
