fiercely determined woman, who was very protective of her family. She was also very charitable as a fundraiser for several organizations. She served on the Board of Directors of Hibiscus Children's Center and organized spectacular galas and events for the Martin Memorial Health System (now Cleveland Clinic). She was also deeply involved with St. Joseph Catholic Church and School, and organized their annual Caritas Christi event to provide laptops for every student in the school. She was born in Pittsburgh, PA, and lived for a time in the Canary Islands. Along with her husband, Frank, they enjoyed a home in Malaga, Spain, as well as several homes along the east coast of Florida. She and Frank loved to travel and immerse themselves in the culture and beauty of every town they visited. Their travels took them around the world, eventually setting foot on every continent.
