

JOHN HLAWKA

John Hlawka, 91, passed away peacefully Thursday morning, February 22, 2024, at his home in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida, with his family by his side.

He was born and raised on the South Side of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He started work at the Pittsburgh Post Gazette as a young teenager, selling newspapers on the street corner and spent the rest of his adult career in the newspaper business. He played sandlot baseball and football. He quarterbacked his team (the Pittsburgh Polechecks) against Johnny Unitas' semi-pro team The Bloomfield Rams, after Unitas was released from the Pittsburgh Steelers and before he signed with the Baltimore Colts. The Polechecks admittedly got their "butts handed to them" by Unitas' superior team. John Hlawka broke his leg playing baseball. He woke up in the hospital with a cast on his leg and looking into the eyes of the young woman he would spend the rest of his life with. In 1963, he and his wife, Marjorie Kass got married, moved to Palm Beach Gardens, bought a house, and raised two children. John went to work for The Miami Herald until he retired. He cared for his stroke victim wife for 22 years until his family cared for him for the final 2 1/2 years of his life. He is survived by his wife, Marjorie; son and daughter, Nicholas and Pamela; granddaughter, Leanne; and sisters, Madge and Susie. He was predeceased by his son-in-law, Barry Grunow; and grandson, Samuel Grunow. Thank you for everything you have done for us. We love you.

Send condolences post-gazette.com/gb