A beautiful rainbow appeared over Pittsburgh while they were saying their vows they had their first wedding reception on that day at the famous Lemont Restaurant for the wedding party. They had a second reception on September 2, 2006 at the Ross Township Evergreen Community Park. Approximately three hundred family members and friends attended including the late Lieutenant Governor Catherine Baker Knoll who presented Ally and Eddie with a beautiful, framed Proclamation from the "Office of the Pennsylvania Lieutenant Governor." It was a successful reception on a rainy day that stopped raining at 3:30 pm just in time for the reception and it turned out to be a beautiful sunny late afternoon. And again, another rainbow appeared over the park.

She just loved that beautiful country. When you asked Ally what her favorite holiday was? She always answered, "Saint Patrick's Day!" and she passed at 11 a.m. during the St. Patrick's Day Parade.

She was loved by all and will certainly be missed by all, especially her husband Eddie who deeply loved her and took extraordinary special care of her.
