

The Misfortune Of Fortune

Fortune can drive you crazy
In buying everything in sight
It can turn you into a child Cranky about a sleepless night

Fortune can make you snobbish
Ignoring anyone that's poor Fortune can make you cry Cause you were too drunk
to open the door

Fortune can give you nightmares
Because you dreamed you lost your money Fortune can make you
oblivious
To an abandoned domestic bunny

And fortune can make you think back
To your old and great wonderful self
When you used to be kind and loving Before you inherited all that wealth
