

Crazy In Love

Have you ever been in that state Where you're crazy in love
real bad
But the feeling is not returned
And it has made you oh so sad

The many years have passed you by
And you're still crazy in love with that person
And it's not making things
any better
But making your pain only worsen

You see that one you still love at the store
With another who's holding their hand
And you just wanna die
right there
And your heart's beating faster than it possibly can

You return home and finish the bottle
Of the whiskey that was waiting for you
You chug it down like water in a desert
Because it's the only thing that'll see you through
