

PASQUALE "PAT" VENNARE

January 3, 1943 - April 18, 2012

Every day, even the smallest thing, brings us back to you. The hole in our hearts has never been filled. The world lost a master mechanic and electrician, inventor, rabid Steeler fan and gifted singer, songwriter and musician. We lost a loving father, son, husband and brother, and a man with the most beautiful mind. The only thing that really eases the pain of your loss is knowing we will see you again someday.