Larry grew up in Atlanta, GA, spending a lot of time with his loving grandparents, Luther and Eufa Harper. He was a 1962 graduate of Bethel Park High School. Larry began his career with Edison Brothers shoe stores until 1978, and continued in car sales until his retirement in 2011. Following a struggle with pulmonary fibrosis, Larry was fortunate to be gifted a second chance at life. He received a double lung transplant at UPMC Presbyterian Hospital in 2012. We are beyond grateful for the doctors, nurses, therapists, and everyone who provided him excellent care for 12 years.
