

MALTI MISRA

Malti Misra, the heart and soul of a beloved large extended family and a thriving Indian-American community in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, transitioned on Monday, May 20, 2024. She was the devoted mother of Mukta (deceased), Neha, Asheesh, and his wife, Amanda; the cherished grandmother (Amma, Naniji) of Anand, Kavi, and Arujn; and a beloved sister, aunt, cousin, and friend to countless others. Malti was the cherished wife of the late Dr. Hari K. Misra. Born in 1940 in Kanpur, India, she graduated from D.A.V. College and immigrated to her beloved Western Pennsylvania in 1965 as one of the first Indian families in Pittsburgh. Together, Malti and Hari brought many of their family members to the U.S., and Malti was the true matriarch of this ever-growing extended family. She was renowned as the best Indian home chef in Western Pennsylvania, sharing love and generosity with countless family, friends, and community members through her culinary creations. Additionally, she played a vital role in building and supporting a thriving Indian-American community. Her home was always the center of love, joy, and comfort for family and friends, new and old. Malti's enduring legacy lives on, as in 1975, she and Dr. Hari K. Misra were among the founders of the Hindu Temple, known today as the Hindu Jain Temple, in Monroeville, Pennsylvania. A memorial service will be held at 10 a.m. on Friday, May 24, 2024, at BEINHAUERS, 2630 W. Liberty Ave., Dormont, 412-531-4000. Please feel free to add or view tributes at www.beinhauer.com. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to either the Hindu Jain Temple at <https://www.hindujaintemple.org/membership-donations/donation> or to Nanhi Khali, a non-profit, with the objective of educating underprivileged girls in India at <https://donor.nanhikali.org/dnrsponsornk>.

Send condolences post-gazette.com/gb