

DANIEL SHRAGER

April 19, 1943 - June 16, 2024

Today, we gather to honor and remember Dr. Daniel Shrager, a beloved husband, devoted father, cherished grandfather, and esteemed psychiatrist.

For 60 beautiful years, Daniel was the loving husband to Marsha. Their bond was a testament to enduring love and unwavering companionship, a beacon of commitment and partnership that has inspired all who knew them.

As a psychiatrist, Daniel dedicated his life to understanding and helping others. His work was not just a profession but a calling, one that he pursued with compassion, dedication, and an unyielding desire to make a difference in the lives of his patients.

He was the proud father of three wonderful children, each of whom carries forward his legacy of kindness, wisdom, and integrity. His eight grandchildren brought immense joy to his life, and he often spoke of the profound happiness they gave him.

Daniel frequently shared that he led a very lucky and happy life. His words remind us of the gratitude he felt for the love, joy, and fulfillment he experienced. It is this gratitude and happiness that we will carry with us as we remember him.

Though he is no longer with us, Daniel's spirit, his love, and his legacy continue to live on in our hearts and minds. We honor his memory by cherishing the lessons he taught us, the love he shared with us, and the happiness he brought into our lives.

Lo nachat b'shalom, Dr. Daniel Shrager. You will be deeply missed and forever remembered.
