

JANICE L. STRICKLER

Age 88, a resident of Providence Point, Pittsburgh, passed away peacefully on November 19.

She was born December 10, 1935, in Pittsburgh, to Ralph and Beatrice Devore Strickler.

Janice graduated from Mt. Lebanon High School in 1953 and graduated from Penn State University in 1957 from the College of Health and Human Development. Upon graduating, she began a great career in the field of Market Research, starting with Procter & Gamble in Cincinnati, Ohio. She finished out her career with Johnson & Johnson, McNeil Laboratories, retiring as their Director of Market Research in 1990.

In 2014, Janice, with assistance from Penn State University, established the Janice L. Stricker award, followed by the Janice L. Strickler Open Doors Scholarship.

Janice was a seasoned traveler, having been on numerous ski vacations and adventures to Europe, Africa and Egypt with her family and friends. In 2009, Janice moved into Providence Point in Pittsburgh, where she was active in water aerobics, bowling, corn hole and bridge. She also continued with her love of painting and over the years, presented family and friends with some of her beautiful works of art.

Janice is survived by many nieces and nephews, Debbie (Todd) Engstrom of Round Rock, TX, Crawford (Tish) McFerran of York, PA, Kelley Suwak of North Strabane, PA, Katherine (Rick) Arnowitt of Jupiter FL, John (Tamara) Suwak of McMurray, PA and Glenn (Laura) McFerran of McMurray, PA.

She was predeceased by sister, Edith (Robert) Suwak; nephew, Robert "RJ" Suwak; and sister and brother-in-law, Katherine (Tay) and Harry (Mac) McFerran.

Friends will be received from 10-11 a.m., Monday, November 25, at the BEINHAUER FUNERAL HOME, in McMurray, PA. Burial will be private.

The family suggests memorial contributions be directed to the Washington Area Humane Society or Penn State University.
