

TIFFANY TERRY

Passed away at her home in Huntsville, Alabama on November 26, 2024, with her husband at her side.

Born in California on November 27, 1966, she was the daughter of Elizabeth and Anthony Terry. She eventually moved to Monroeville and was employed at UPMC East as the administrative assistant for the case management team before moving to Huntsville. Tiffany had a broad and varied work career, including parts in "Murder She Wrote," "Designing Women," "Coach," "Wildcats" the movie, "Pretty in Pink" and many commercials and plays. She was a technical wizard and could do or fix anything that involved a computer and had a deep love for baseball. But more importantly, she was a friend to all. She had an infectious laugh, loved to learn medical terminology (which she misused) and sang off key, which her friends, coworkers and "Team Tiff" will miss most.

She was preceded in death by her father; and leaves behind her loving husband, Eric Winemiller; sister, Charisse Woods of California; her mother; and two very special cats, Morgan and Griffey.

Tiffany was grateful for her hospice nurse, Jessica; the inpatient hospice unit at Huntsville Family Care; her oncologist, Dr. Diaz; chemo nurses; and her church that supported her through her illness.

There was no Visitation and Interment was private.
