

Santa Claus (((Ain't))) Comin To Town

Santa Claus is quite offended About what's happening
Christmas day
There's a football game on T.V.
And it's interfering with his way

His way of being the focus Of the day we celebrate his name
But people will not acknowledge him Because their minds will be on the game

But our team will lose that game
And they're also gonna lose their spine
And might you inquire why It's cause they're being punished by the Lord Divine

For the baby Jesus was born that day
But those idiots will glorify the game
Instead of only celebrating His one and holy name

You see you should never be glorifying sports stars By putting them higher than God
For those stars are like specks of dust
That will disintegrate into piles of sod

And so I will close this poem That I hoped I wouldn't have to write
And you can bet your bottom dollar
That game ... "will not" ... be a part of my night

Rachel Ann Bovier (Xmas Cards Welcomed)