

GILLIAN MARY BAUMAN

Despite being a woman who did everything right, Gillian Mary Bauman left this world, on January 14, 2025, at the age of 82, (after a short and vicious battle with cancer). Born on October 11, 1942, in Liverpool England, she was the daughter of the late James Gordan and Ada Pearce. She was old enough to have experienced the blitz attacks during World War II, growing up in Liverpool and still had difficult dreams about those moments.

Gill leaves behind her devoted husband of 60 years, Robert Bauman, Ed.D; two loving children, Kathy (Geher) and Kelly (Marshall) Siegel; and her four adored grandchildren, Meredith, Megan, Christopher and Andrew; as well as her nephew, Jeffrey Pearce and his family. She also leaves behind many wonderful friends. She was an active member of the Hancock Women's Group in Hancock, Maine. The "sole sisters" provided incredible support and friendship to Gill during her many happy summers at her home in Maine.

Gill was a preschool teacher for special needs children and offered education and kindness to many children and families over the years. This career choice was a very difficult job, she was praised for her professionalism and compassion by everyone who saw her at work in her classroom. She was also able to use her salary from this job to help pay for her children's and grandchildren's educations.

She also had a love of travel and she and Bob were fortunate to have travelled to many places over their long marriage, including France, England, Ireland Italy, Spain, Portugal, Argentina, the Caribbean (when she and Bob were younger) and her native country of Wales. Recently, she recently reflected on her many trips to France and her love of the French countryside and lilac fields. When she wasn't travelling, she could be found reading or playing one of her many word games on her phone. She was a tough competitor in Words with Friends and Scrabble!

She also spent a great time of time in her kitchen cooking delicious meals, which she loved to do (and her family enjoyed very much). Most of these meals came from her experiences in other countries, there was no food she wouldn't attempt to cook or eat!

Gill and Bob were great animal lovers and shared their life with many wonderful dogs of different breeds, including basset hounds, Great Pyrenees, Newfoundlands and a golden retriever. There were very few of the 60 years of her long marriage where a dog (or two) was not living in (or welcomed into) their home. Both trouble and love came from this interest.

Gillian's generosity and warmth touched everyone she met. She was a friend, a mentor and a confidante, offering her wisdom, compassion and a listening ear. She had a unique ability to make others feel seen and valued, leaving a lasting impression on those lucky enough to cross her path.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the APSCA to honor her life-long love of dogs.

Memorial gatherings are being planned in Pittsburgh and Hancock, Maine. Details will be shared when arrangements have been made.
