She is also survived by her father, William Doyle; and was preceded in death by her mother, Dorothy Harris; and grandparents, Kenneth and Roberta Harris, whom she missed dearly. Denise was a strong woman who faced life's challenges with resilience and determination. She always did the best she could, demonstrating unwavering strength and a deep love for her family. She had a heart full of compassion and never gave up, no matter the circumstances.

Denise had a special place in her heart for animals, as she admired their beauty, strength and grace and found peace and contentment in watching dolphins swim, eagles fly and lions roam free. Her compassion for all living creatures reflected the same love and care she showed to her family and friends. She was also an avid reader and often spent her spare time listening to audio books or reading her newest book find.

Denise always had a listening ear and a caring heart and her generosity extended beyond her family to her many friends. Denise's passing leaves a profound void but her spirit will live on in the lives she touched.

A private family Memorial will be held to celebrate Denise's life and the impact she had on all who knew her. In lieu of a service, the family requests that friends and family take a moment to reflect on the life of Denise and to give those close to them a hug and let them know you care. Denise always cherished those simple, meaningful connections and we ask that you honor her memory by doing the same.
